In 250 words or less, please state why you are declaring candidacy for the RFS Executive Committee and what past experiences will help you contribute to the ACR-RFS as a leader for the section.

As an economics major at a small liberal arts school, I was fascinated by the statistics of an individual's ability to impact a market. Although my interests have shifted to evaluating CT images for possible aortic rupture or small bowel obstruction, my interest in how seemingly small decisions can impact an entire group have not changed. If elected as the next Association of Academic Chief Residents in Radiology Representative and Education Liaison, I would strive to be a strong voice for the residents and fellows of the ACR, especially on issues regarding curriculum changes and radiation safety. Most importantly, I would want to know what issues are currently important to residents so that I can adequately represent resident concerns on ACR subcommittees. Additionally, I have been avidly involved in publications throughout college and medical school and would like to utilize these skills through assistance with newsletters with ACR and Association of Academic Chief Residents. If given the opportunity to serve as your next A3Cr2 Representative and Education Liaison, I would be truly honored to serve you as your well-rounded representative...with a touch of Southern hospitality.
